Meeting Report: Short Term Rentals and the Accommodation Sector

On January 7th, 2020, Council members met with representatives of the commercial accommodation sector (i.e. motels and hotels) to discuss issues arising from short term rentals (or STR's i.e. AirBnB). Mayor Reinhardt provided a presentation detailing the draft STR policy, followed by a discussion period.

This report is intended to summarize the key positions and concerns of the attendees, including the position paper presented by Michael Anderson of True Key Hotels & Resorts.

Concerns expressed and positions stated:

- Many in the accommodation sector are having financial difficulties.
- Some are having challenges achieving full occupancy.
- There are a considerable number of STR units and this number seems to be growing.
- With increases in strata insurance rates, owners will be seeking new sources of income.
- The STR industry is unregulated and provides no employment.
- STR's are appealing because the Residential Tenancy Act overly protects long term renters.
- STR owners pay cash for cleaning making it challenging for the accommodation sector to find employees due to the wage disparity.
- STR users disrupt neighbourhoods with issues like noise, drunken behaviour et cetera.
- Implement a complete ban of STRs.
- STR users bring no economic benefit to the community.
- STR owners should be paying the same accommodation taxes (i.e. MRDT) as the hotels.
- There should be a fair and level playing field.
- A phased approach to regulation should be taken, with initial rules imposed sooner rather than later.
- Hoteliers employ staff and pay employment related taxes and provide health benefits to employees.
- Hoteliers pay commercial utility rates which are higher than the residential rates imposed on STRs.
- Hoteliers invest in sales & marketing more than STR owners.
- STRs have driven housing prices up due to a reduction in long term rental stock.
- The reduction in long term rental stock has made attracting and retaining employees more difficult.
- Rental pool accommodators (i.e. Bighorn Meadows) pay a split commercial/residential property tax.

- The 'black market' in housekeeping for STRs, while lucrative for the workers, drives up labour costs.
- STRs put pressure on rate integrity because their operating costs, and therefore their rental charges, are lower.
- The MRDT vote will fail in the next round if the Village allows STRs.
- Hotel operators may leave the Village if STRs are allowed to continue.
- STRs should only be allowed in commercial areas and their numbers should be capped.
- Single family homes should not be allowed to operate STRs.
- The Village should adopt an active enforcement and legal prosecution scheme for violations.
- The Village should require STR inspections for life safety requirements.
- STRs should be banned during the shoulder seasons.
- STRs should be required to report on their rates and occupancy.
- Developers like Bighorn Meadows may halt future proposed development if the Village allows STRs.
- STR revenue goes back to 'Alberta'.

Re: Order passed by Village of Radium Hot Springs Council against property located at Lot 1 District Lot 486 Kootenay District Plan NEP71307 (4906 Thouret Road)

Dear Council,

On behalf of 0731543 B.C. LTD., I would like to extend a thank you for the understanding on this issue to date. Having recently become involved with this property, it has taken some time to assess and develop a plan and team to move forward which is still in the works. Radium is a beautiful community and we are going to do everything to add value to the village.

Having said that, the first way we can add immediate value is to get this lot cleaned up. We are currently working on finances to move forward with this project. In light of the current reality of our economy, in particular Alberta, I think we all understand the challenge that is before us. We are seeking from the council an extension until June 30th to have your requests met. Our desire is to have it completed before this date.

A hazardous materials inspection was performed by EMSL Canada Inc on Oct 07, 2019 and the report confirmed that no hazardous materials were detected. A copy of that report has been given. We also inspected the lot and have documented all of the issues that need to be rectified. We will be getting quotes for clean up and evaluating what we can do on our own.

We are hopeful to be bringing a proposal to council for this development as well in the very near future. We thank you in advance for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Teresa Sauvé

Re: Corporate Membership

The Columbia Basin Institute of Regional History is continuing its work to make the history of the Columbia Basin public. We have done a number of specific web projects which include aspects of Radium's history. We invite you to visit our site at www.basininstitute.org to view them.

Currently we are partnering with School District #5 to produce "A Legacy of Learning," an exploration of the history of education in what was old School District #1 (Fernie) and School District #2 (Cranbrook). This is an exciting project that is designed to rescue a lot of disappearing history of something that we all participated in – education and schools. We have uncovered mounds of documents and photographs pertaining to the whole region and are currently working to get them onto our website. We also have over a 130 High School yearbooks from Cranbrook, Kimberley, Fernie, Jaffray, Sparwood, and Elkford that have been digitized and are available for viewing on our website.

We invite the Village of Radium Hot Springs to purchase a $200.00 corporate membership in the Columbia Basin Institute of Regional History. This money goes directly to advancing the work of the Institute for all residents of Radium and the Columbia Basin. Our work is available to anyone with a computer or access to a computer, and is updated very frequently. We are also changing our corporate membership up a bit, in addition to our members receiving our newsletter they will also receive a discount on photo printing and more access to our online research files.

Please consider renewing your membership and purchasing a 2020 corporate membership. This will further the work of the Columbia Basin Institute of Regional History. We would be happy to receipt or invoice, whichever works best for the Village of Radium Hot Springs.

Yours truly

Thank you for the opportunity to provide feedback to the proposed modernization of emergency management legislation. The City understands the Province's desire to shift emergency management from response to mitigation and better preparedness, and also the ultimate cost effectiveness of such an approach. Minimizing risk is cost effective in the long run.

Local authorities will require significant resources, support and time to shift the approach. Moving forward, mandating greater consideration of current and future risk when considering development in hazardous areas does not pose a significant issue. Stronger legislation to enable local authorities to say "no" would be helpful in this regard, as there is a real cost to mitigating against potential risks.

Proposed legislated and regulatory requirements of local authorities include the need to identify and assess hazards, risks and vulnerabilities, establish associated mitigation plans, develop response and recovery plans, develop business continuity plans, and undertake training and exercises and a review cycle. While much of this work is being undertaken for priority risks in our communities, there are no dedicated staff for this and funding comes from very tight municipal budgets over time. Additional staff resources and funding are required in order to move this issue forward in a timely fashion.

Recovery to reduce future risk and enhance resilience is everybody's goal, but local authorities have faced significant challenges with this in practice. The Province's desire to see "building back faster and better" is admirable, but a lofty goal from the perspective of local authorities. With minimal staff complements and bare bones budgets, many communities have neither the capacity nor funding to "build back faster and better" on a schedule dictated by disasters. Significant provincial support is required to realize this objective, including revisiting funding restrictions to restoration only to pre-disaster conditions and the eighty percent ceiling for approved recovery costs.

Additionally, it is concerning to read that the Province is considering requiring post-disaster needs assessments and post-disaster recovery plans as a condition of receiving provincial recovery funds and the renewal of recovery powers. Considerable time is going to be required for local authorities to build this capacity in their organizations. Provincial funding and training to help create and enable this function is desirable. As is a transition time to the implementation of the new legislation. If it comes into effect in 2021 as has been indicated, will post-disaster needs assessments and recovery plans be required to access recovery funding if there is significant flooding in the spring?

The proposed requirements to consult with local First Nations and expansion of the definition of "emergency" to include actions to protect community well-being and indigenous cultural sites requires additional information in order for us to fully understand the implications.

The vast majority of our community is already constructed and wasn't built recently. It will take a long time to adapt development designed for a different climate to address rapidly changing local conditions. Local authorities' capacity to affect adaptation of privately held developed lands is limited. Finger pointing at local authorities with blame for enabling the development challenges of our times isn't the answer. Nor is it necessarily correct, given the evolution of local development authority in BC.

A comprehensive and sustained provincial public awareness campaign would greatly assist the transition to an "all of society approach" to emergency management.

Yours truly,
